THE MAN FOR THE JOB

Great Britain has ever been fortunate in securing particular men for particular positions. Whether it be to sit upon the throne of the greatest empire the world has known, or to fill the place of Governor-general in the latest of modern nations, Canada, or to fill the delicate and difficult position of Pasha and Governor of the developing country Egypt. That same country has ever been a difficult one to rule, even since the days of the Pharaohs. England, true to her love of freedom, has desired to give that country a good measure of self government. Lord Cromer, a king among statesmen, enabled her to shake off the fetters of bankruptcy and to gain a measure of self respect she had never known before. Then Sir Eldon Gurnea, another prince among statesmen, was sent with instructions to bring about certain systems of self government. He found, however, that the happy-go-lucky Egyptian was not equal to such a great change. We understand the experiment was a great failure.

Then the question arose, Who will go for us? The experiments in self-government did more harm than good, and the whole country seemingly was again drifting back into the same condition that obtained centuries ago. So the question arose, Who will go for us, or whom shall we send? Egypt has ever been a difficult country to rule or govern, and men equal to such a task are not easy to find, but note the wisdom of those who are at the head of things. There is Lord Kitchener, the soldier, the man of iron will and strong nerve, another prince among men, we will send him; and Lord Kitchener, the hero of Khartoum, the one time conqueror of the many tribes of the great deserts, the hero of South Africa, the servant of his country, is now back in Egypt. Note also the greatness of such men. Kitchener has won his laurels, his breast is covered with honors, his hair is going grey, for he has seen great service for his country. He might well have gone aside and lived at ease, but no, duty called, and that man responded. He will succeed for he is the right man in the right place, and is almost worshipped by the Egyptians. Happy is the country that has such men to send to the difficult positions. Happy also is the country that looks up to such a man as its Governor. We wish prosperity to Egypt and that the self-sacrifice of past years may not be lost. Kitchener will save Egypt again.

THE CENSUS

We cannot refrain from a passing allusion to this all absorbing topic. Can any one tell us what the figure is for our town. Now, is a city or town is not "in it" at all if it does not register its kick against the enumerators. Surely there were a lot of disappointed applicants for that office. One would think so at any rate, for almost every town is talking about doing its own counting. It somehow looks rather suspicious, though, for a town to do its own counting. Suppose the result made the number less than the figure already given. Yes, there would, undoubtedly be a loud silence.

STILL GUESSING

The papers are still guessing as to what startling policies Mr. Borden and his cabinet are going to spring upon us. It is not surprising that some liberal papers are saying what is going to be done? What a pleasant thing it is to be "Always again the Gov'nment." 'Tis not natural attribute bad weather and poor crops to the change of government. There is one "Daily" which tells us that there are already two million men out of work in America and presently there will be two million more. They kind of hint that reciprocity would have assured work for that four million, and would like to lay the blame of these "out of work" upon Canada. We must be pretty thick for we can't see the point.

Repair Farm Implements

The field work of the season, with the exception of the fall plowing, is pretty well over, and the time is appropriate for looking over the implements used during the summer. Every ring and bolt subject to strain of any kind should be looked over. Bearings should be cleaned and tested and every defect noted and made up before the machine goes into winter quarters. This examination and repairing should be done now, when the necessity for attending to it is fresh in the farmer's mind. It is more than likely that every farm has its share of machinery that has been temporarily fitted up till the summer's rush is over, but which is not in good condition for a season's work. Why not attend to such weak places now? The blacksmith or the machine expert has more leisure now that the pressure of his summer's work is over than he will have any time between now and next harvest.

The life of a mower or a binder may be extended almost indefinitely by keeping up timely repairs thus avoiding the strain consequent upon a break-down. A dollar's worth of paint, and a few hours spent in putting it on, mean a deal of gain in appearance, besides affecting a saving in good dollars that is surprising. Perhaps the greatest advantage that may be wrought by this fall inspection of implements is the fact that it ensures their being properly housed for the winter. The machine or tool that is clean, well painted and bright, commands respect, while the fence corner seems good enough place for the dilapidated implement.

In cases where the pressure of fall work makes the doing of repairs in the autumn an impossibility the implements should be gone over, at any rate, and a careful note made of the repairs necessary. The missing or over-weak portions should be ordered, so that when the milder days of winter come on they may be put in place and the machine made ready for the seeding or harvesting rush of next year. Farmers who make a practice of doing these things easily save ten per cent. on the money they have invested in their farm equipment.

Watch For Him

The police are on the lookout for a short man garbed as a workman who has succeeded in passing several bogus Standard Bank cheques, using the names of Calgary business firms in his operations. A grocer in the residential section of that city complained to the police that he had been defrauded by this individual, who gave him a cheque in payment for some groceries.

Sound Advice

FARMER—Well wife, the barn wants painting, the fence is down, the chickens are in the garden, the doors are off the granary, the pump's no good, we haven't a knife that we can cut the meat, the linoleum is full of holes, the house is swarming with flies, the chickens are covered with lice, we haven't got a decent chair to sit on, the buggy squeaks worse than a German band, the cows swallow the wire stretchers, and the pig eat the hammer. I think we'll quit farming.

WIFE—Let us go and see McMeekin & Scragg and get the place fixed up. We're going to have a good crop this year, and I know the boys will treat us right.

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waurika, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different things but did me no good. I could not sleep day or night. While in the throes of the trouble of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and began its use, and wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. In short time I had gained my average weight and am now strong and well. I am, SALLIE STEVENSON, R. F. D. No. 3, Box 51, Waurika, Okla."

Another Grateful Woman
London, Ont.—I feel as if I could not adequately express to you the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was weak and tired that I could not rest nights. A friend recommended your Compound and I soon gained my strength and could not wait to sleep better. I had heard of some who have taken it for the same purpose and they join me in the warmest wishes for the success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and begin its use, and wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. In short time I had gained my average weight and am now strong and well. I am, SALLIE STEVENSON, R. F. D. Appealed to Him
Two new actors in the gallery of a local theatre in which "Hans and Gretchen" was being played, had for the first time they had seen a play, and they were held breathless. In the last scene, after Hamlet had killed Laertes and I don't know how many others, the younger of the two could contain himself no longer. Turning to his chum of the streets in exultant tones he said: "Golly, Bill, what a time for sellin' apples!"

Mrs. Nordica at a garden party at Dord Beach said, apropos of her recent European tour:

"Many good people refuse to be impressed by the armless and legless fragments of antique sculpture treasured in the museums of the world. One day in the British museum a guide, was recounting to a group of tourists the glories of the battered centurion when a Chicago maid came and broke the reverent hush with the question:

"Excuse me, sir, but what would they feed a bloke like that on—ham and eggs or hay?"—Washington Star.

"Gladly" is very strict in her ideas about the appropriate touch in dress. "Is she?" "So much so, that when her hair-salver did it, she said, 'What a beautiful thing! but half-mourning.'—Herald.

She—"Doesn't it worry you dreadfully to owe so many bills you carry over?"

He—"No. Why should I worry over other people's troubles?"

Why Should I Use Cuticura Soap?

"There is nothing the matter with my skin, and I thought Cuticura Soap was only for skin troubles." True, it is for skin troubles, but its use is necessary to prevent skin troubles. For more than a generation its delicate emollient and prophylactic properties have rendered it the standard for this purpose, while its extreme purity and refreshing fragrance give to it all the advantages of the best of toilet soaps. It is also invaluable in keeping the hands soft and white, the hair lustrous and glossy, and the scalp free from dandruff and irritation.

While its first cost is a few cents more than that of ordinary toilet soaps, it is prepared with such care and of such materials, that it wears to a wafer, often outlasting several cakes of other soap, and making its use, in practice, most economical. Cuticura Soap is sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, but the truth of these claims may be demonstrated without fail by sending to "Cuticura," Dept. 7M, Boston, U. S. A., for a liberal sample cake, together with a thirty-two page book on the skin and hair.

AN AUTOGRAPH FIEND.

His Ruin to Get Letters and the Fate They Have Met.

The collecting of autograph dates back as far as the sixteenth century when men and women of light and leading were accustomed to carry about along volumes of vellum on which their friends and acquaintances were requested to write some motto or phrase under his or her signature.

It was not, however, until 1800 or thereabouts that collections of autographs began to assume a monetary value amongst the votaries of the hobby. About this time appeared on the scene the Autograph Fiend (the "A. F." referred to in the title), and he has been growing in numbers and enterprise ever since.

He is a veritable terror, sparing none, and the devices he will employ in order to trap the celebrity into giving his autograph are legion. There are, of course, the "pros," though both are pretty bad, the "pro" is undoubtedly the worst, since his sole object is the transmitting of great men's signatures into the current coin of the realm; whereas to the amateur the hobby is one of real and absorbing interest.

One famous Frenchman sent him closely-written pages in his own handwriting of earnest appeal, but the collector, after receiving the letter at Boulogne at the time, wrote, in French, a short note of comfort to the man who wrote himself "Monsieur," reminding him that he was but one of thousands of men who had been in a similar position, and who had finally emerged "victorious, triumphant, and happy."

Fiend was eventually imprisoned for a brief period of twenty days, and he was so sorry to be in confinement in connection with the Frenchman's appeal, that he wrote to the latter, saying: "My dear friend, the early reply was sold for five shillings."

The same sun was realized on the part of the collector, who, in the letter, in which he explains his political views to a carpenter who writes to him, says: "I am a working man, and I am writing." The letter concludes with the promise on the part of the writer to become a soldier, as the carpenter's child upon his baptism.

Another man, who writes to the collector, says: "I am a working man, and I am writing." The letter concludes with the promise on the part of the writer to become a soldier, as the carpenter's child upon his baptism.

MOONEY MAKES THE CRISPEST

CREAMIEST BISCUIT

"LET MOONEY DO IT"

Thousands of people all over Western Canada are letting MOONEY make their biscuits.

They have found that MOONEY'S BISCUITS are just a little crispier, just a little creamier, just a little thinner, just a little more appetizing.

The cove that made two free with his knife a week or two ago has been sent down to Lethbridge for eight months, where he will not need the use of a knife as his diet will consist of skill and water.

Those who did not hear the Rev. O. E. Mann last Sunday evening certainly missed a spiritual treat. He gave us some of the best points from the Laymen's Missionary Convention held in Calgary last week.

On Sunday, Nov. 5th, a thanksgiving service will be held in the Methodist Church. Sermon by the Rev. O. E. Mann, subject, "Thanksgiving! What For?" Song service at 7 o'clock. Regular service at 7:15. Come, and bring your friends.

The sermon subjects in the Presbyterian hall next Sunday are as follows: In the morning "The Defeat of Amalek," and in the evening "Adoption." Keep the time in mind. Bible school at 10:15, and public worship at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

In view of the fact that Monday and Tuesday were the last two days of the chicken season, some of our local hunters were busy on the prairie and foothills bagging a few more for table use. It is said that the season this year has been exceptionally good.

Owing to the unworkability of the Local Option Act, the vote in Central Alberta for local option fixed for November 30th has been called off for this fall. The government, after consultation with interests concerned, have decided on this course. The act is fifteen years old and has provisions which are too cumbersome for the people.

Very soon Christmas will be here. Why not see to it in good time in choosing your Christmas greetings? Too often this is left until the last minute, and you are disappointed in not getting the quality you might have had had you made your selection early. Mr. Lou Morton, who has been on the Bank of Hamilton here for eight months, has resigned and left on Thursday for his home. Lou was a valuable member of the ball team and will be missed next summer. On Wednesday evening a number of Mr. Morton's boy friends tendered him an oyster supper at the O. K. Restaurant and presented him with a very pretty tie set—Carmagay Sun.

On Nov. 8, 9 and 10, the annual convention of the Alberta Sabbath School Association takes place at Edmonton. On Monday, the 7th, and all day on Wednesday, there will be rally of the Young Peoples' Societies of the Province, and that will give a good introduction to all that is to follow. The Presbyterian Church here has appointed Miss Caspell as their delegate, and the Meadowbank appointment has elected Miss Mabel Duncan as their representative. Others who would like to attend, and can, should send in their names as soon as possible. Ask somebody about it.

Thanksgiving Concert

The Thanksgiving concert and supper given in the Presbyterian Hall on Monday night was a grand success, a large crowd being present and all thoroughly enjoying the entertainment and supper. Everybody seems to be fond of chicken around Cayley, judging from the amount that was served. The Ladies' Aid are certainly entitled to great praise and honor for the sumptuous repast that had been provided, for it seemed they had given extra consideration to the hungry crowd who did justice to the fine spread.

The concert, which was given immediately after the supper, was also a success and each number on the programme was well rendered and highly enjoyed by the audience. The Rev. O. E. Mann acted as chairman and in opening the programme made a short and pithy address. Piano selections were given by Mrs. Harris and Misses Couey and McLaughlin, the latter from High River. Miss Stirling and Miss Robertson sang solos which were much enjoyed by all. The Ladies' Band did their share toward making the programme entertaining, and as one of the audience said: "The Band did their part, while the instruments did the rest." A quartette by Misses Stirling and Couey and Messrs Durham and Beaton was well rendered. A reading was given by Irvine Biesigal in his usual style.

Farmer Shackleton's threshing gang were the "Stars" of the evening, coming in after a hard day's work in the fields and taking a prominent part in the entertainment, for which they deserve great praise. Their first selection was an old familiar harvest hymn, the second "That will be Glory for me." One recitation and two songs suitable to the occasion were given.

The "cap sheet" of the evening was the dialogue entitled "The Milkmaid's Parade," given by the Constable Family. Paw and Maw always have their own troubles with their family, but the on-lookers took immense enjoyment out of their sorrows. Other selections by this family were very nicely rendered.

The evening's entertainment was concluded by singing "God Save the King," and all went home feeling that they had enjoyed a pleasant Thanksgiving evening.

The thanks of the Ladies' Aid are extended to all who so kindly assisted in making the entertainment such a grand success.

Reid Hill

Farmers are busy hauling grain to market.

Great prospects of another railroad for Reid Hill.

Miss Florence Anderson of Cayley is visiting at Geo. Smith's.

Well, Mr. Hustler, your correspondent has got back to loneliness again.

This country is a sight to see now. Mountains of straw everywhere.

Jet Wootress is preparing to leave here this fall. He intends going to B.C. to spend the winter.

Threshing is nearly all done in this neighborhood. Grain is turning out good. Wheat is running from 25 to 30 bushels per acre, oats from 60 to 105.

Every farmer in this district had to build new grainaries this year, and then some even had to put wheat in their shacks and sleep in the straw stack.

A BEAUTIFUL STORY

A beautiful story is depicted in the picture, entitled "Home Again" given this season with the Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal. It is beyond doubt the best picture ever offered with that great paper. The picture is 22 x 29 inches, ready for framing. The Family Herald and Weekly Star is growing faster and faster every year. It is the marvel of the newspaper world to-day and why such a picture as "Home Again," all for one dollar a year, it is no wonder the circulation grows. Every home in Canada should spend a dollar this season on this great bargain.

PEOPLE ARE ASKING

WHERE THE FOUR DOLLAR BILLS COME FROM

Have you a $4 bill in your pocket? There are a great many new $4 bills in circulation just now. These new $4 bills is an evidence of the unusual prosperity this country is enjoying. The fact of their being in circulation means that business in Canada has expanded to such an extent that the banks have reached the limit of the note circulation allowed them under the Bank Act and have been forced to buy Government notes to supply the country's demand for currency. The bank note circulation is one of the best barometers of the condition of business in the country. When the note circulation is large the country is always in a healthy business condition. The fact that the note circulation has reached its limit and that the Government had to be called on for new currency shows that business in Canada has experienced an enormous expansion this year. It shows business conditions to be in an unusually healthy state.

Prettiest Morning Glory That Ever Bloomed in a Tomato Can.

Why do I develop my seedlings, flower marks and all, with a mighty appetite at noontime of my first day at work with the iron molders Mike reached over into a neighboring yard and plucked a crisp little morning glory. Holding the delicate blossom up for my inspection, he said, "Young fellow, you make me one just like that in bronze?" I was quite sure I could not. "But," said he, "you needn't think it can't do any more. You get an old can, punch a hole through the bottom of it with a nail and stick the stem of the flower through the hole, leaving the blossom inside. See? I saw. Next you fill the can with water and drop into the water bit by bit some fine sand. Mud you, go slow. After a long time the water will leak out, leaving the blossom buried in the sand, but still in good shape. Now you'll dry the whole thing in the oven and bake it. That will burn the blossom to ashes. Then if you have the patience to shake it and shake it till all the sand drops out through the stem you'll be ready to pour in your metal, and if you do so as I tell you and make no mistake and try about six times you'll have in the end the prettiest morning glory that ever bloomed in a tomato can—Burling."
